

NEW COUNTYWIDE RESOURCE

GALE IN CONTEXT: SCIENCE

Monday, November 16th
Online - 10AM

Discover how the new countywide resource Gale In Context: Science can help patrons explore the science behind the questions that matter to them. In this session, library staff will learn how to navigate the resource, find trusted information on topics ranging from health and technology to the environment and space, and explore articles, reference content, multimedia, experiments, and more.

REGISTER HERE

Please let us know in advance if you will need an accommodation that will make this event accessible to you.

